POLITICS AND CONSERVATION

Although politics has no place in the columns of The Chronicle, no one interested in conservation can fail to rejoice at the major attention which this, to us, most important issue is being given in the current presidential campaign. The Democrats have organized a special Conservationists for Stevenson Committee charging that the present administration has given away to private interests grazing, timber, oil and water power rights in our national parks and forests. The Republicans not only deny these charges, but point out that during the last four years private uses of national property have actually decreased; that the government has prevented from becoming law quantities of legislation favoring private interests; that the facilities making our parks and forests available to the public have been vastly increased; and that effective measures have been adopted to preserve wild life and wilderness areas.

All this debate offers a most refreshing contrast to the apathy of government which has characterized past generations. As settlers moved west across the North American continent the problem was to get as much timber burned as possible in order to clear the land; to get as many streams dammed as possible in order to create water power and factories regardless of water pollution or the effect on fish; to get as much land plowed as possible in order to raise crops, even though rains washed the exposed soil off the farms and into the streams where it choked the dams; to plow up the grass of the plains and prairies regardless of the resulting dust bowl; to deplete our soil and mineral resources in prodigal fashion, including such practices as strip mining and dumping wastes into streams and shore waters. Until a century ago it was cheaper to buy, move onto, clear and cultivate an acre of new land, than to keep up the fertility of an old one—on a short range basis the laws of economics were on the side of the spoilers.

Theodore Roosevelt and his generation finally realised the seriousness of the situation and took steps to halt the transfer of the public domain to private hands on a practically give-away basis. Nevertheless the transition could not be made all at once. To have withdrawn all private use of public lands immediately would have bankrupted hundreds of thousands of ranchers and homesteaders whose entire economy had been built on free grazing and other rights. Gradually during the past 50 years those rights have been regulated and reduced.

As our population has increased and congregated in the cities; as machinery has stepped up the national productivity and afforded new leisure; and as the automobile has made transportation a negligible problem, our national forests and parks have assumed major importance because of the recreation which they afford. This importance is further increased by clean farming and population pressure which decrease the private areas available and the amount of game which such areas can support. Because of these trends public interests are paramount in the future development of the national domain—as indeed they should be.

Whether we are Democrats or Republicans we can all take satisfaction in the fact that the development of the campaign has made Conservation a sure winner.

Huntsman Brice

Dear Sir:

Wilbur Hubbard's letter in your recent issue with regard to the late George Brice, huntsman to the Essex Fox Hounds from 1913 to 1947 prompts me to send you the enclosed photo of Mr. Brice with the Essex winning five couples of Blue Tick Eastern Shore Hounds at Bryn Mawr in 1920. The whipper-in is Chris Cummings. I thought you'd be interested to see it especially in view of the Essex win at Bryn Mawr this year beating six extremely nice looking packs of hounds.

In Mr. Hubbard's article, he notes that George greatly treasured the letter from Redmond Stewart referring to him as the greatest huntsman of his time in this country.

George Brice was listed also by Joseph Thomas, M. F. H., in an article in Polo Magazine in the late twenties, as one of the three great huntsmen in America, the other two being Jack Smith, huntsman to the Brandywine, and Charlie Carver, huntsman to Mr. Thomas' Foxhounds (and later with the Essex for a short period).

George Brice's great ability as a huntsman was noted in Harry T. Peters book on hunting in which he speaks of the fine sport shown by the Essex blue tick pack under the mastership of Mr. A. Fillmore

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Former Hurdle Horse, Flying Fury, Is Surprise Winner In Mile-And-A-Half Manhattan Handicap

Raleigh Burroughs

Like the Moons of Jupiter, around the racing world hover scores of satellite bodies. These are associations, clubs, investigating panels and advisory boards. Some of them are nearly as useful as the moons.

How the grand old sport and the public that patronizes it benefit from the activities of such groups is brought out by a recommendation recently made by one of them, the Maryland Racing Council.

The Council is made up of representatives of the horse breeders, tracks and Racing Commission. The public is not represented except (theoretically) by the Commission.

Always on the alert for means of attracting better horses to their State, the Maryland Council suggested that the "quinella" be adopted.

"Quinella" is a word from the Universal language and is derived from "qui" (never give a sucker) and "nella" (an even break).

The Spanish, who have noted down through history for their ability to devise unique methods of torture, invented the device. They call it "quinela," but you don't have to spell it to play it, so the name has been corrupted by the Racing Council.

In case you are not a close follower of the dog races and are wondering just what a quinela is, an explanation is in order. It is a stunt for handing the bettor a one-two punch, and, as anyone with even a sketchy knowledge of sport is aware, a one-two punch often results in a knockout.

It was designed for people who get their figuring down to two dogs and then play the wrong one. With the quinela, you play both, and if they run one-two (or two-one) you collect. Researches that I have conducted indicate that the dogs usually run two-eight or four-six.

It costs but $56 to buy all the combinations in an eight-dog race. If you do that you can't lose unless the winning combination pays less than $56.

You recognize what a bargain the quinela can be when you remember that it costs $128 to buy all the daily double combinations in two eight-dog races.

My research department has been able to uncover no instance of a person's becoming independently wealthy "buying the rack" either in the quinela or daily double game.

I predict that the reaction of the Maryland public will be twofold: Fold No. 1 - a feeling of revulsion; Fold No. 2 - an irresistible urge to have a go at the thing.

Belmont Park

October 6 brought the mile-and-a-half Manhattan Handicap and the six-furlong Matron Stakes to Belmont Park.

The Manhattan was being run for the 55th time, the Matron for the 50th. The older and longer race was inaugurated at Morris Park in 1896. At that time it was run at 1 1/4 miles. Later the distance was cut to six furlongs, then upped to seven, then to one mile and, in 1932, was put at 12 furlongs.

The winner this year, Flying Fury, spent the summer winning hurdle races for his barn, and was sent from the post at a nickel less than $8 to one. He looked like a 1 to 2 shot coming down the stretch.

Following a couple of lengths back of the early pace, set by Cavort and pressed by Jet Action, Flying Fury raced into the lead with about five eighths to go and hit the finish line three lengths before Honeys Alibi. Paper Tiger was two lengths farther back. He nosed out Jet Action, the favorite, for third money.

Flying Fury is a dark bay, four-year-old colt by *Nasrullah-Sicily, by Reaping Reward. He was bred by Harry F. Guggenheim and races for that gentleman's Cain Hoy Stable.

The colt took three races at Monmouth in July and August, all of them over the jumps. At Saratoga, he finished second to Thinking Cap in the Merchants and Citizens Handicap. Flying Fury got into the Manhattan under 108. The report is that he has been a difficult horse to handle but, recently, has "calmed down."

The Manhattan, worth $37,600, brought Flying Fury's 1956 earnings to $62,475. Besides his 4 wins, he has been second once.

Three-Year-Old *Gay Time II Defeats Older Hurdlers In $12,000 Rouge Dragon Handicap

John E. Cooper

For the first time in quite a number of years, a three-year-old defeated older horses going two miles over hurdles when John M. Schiff's *Gay Time 2nd scored an impressive win in the $12,000 Rouge Dragon Handicap run on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd. His Win was all the more impressive with Thompson, his rider, forcing the early pace set by Permian, then taking the French-bred to the front and staying there to cross under the wire with seven lengths to spare. Carleton Palmer's veteran *Galatian closed well to garner the runner-up award, but was no match for his younger rival. The same might be said for Mrs. Denckla's Songai, which ran well, but found 150 lbs., and the brilliant speed of the winner more than he could cope with. The fourth horse, also owned by John M. Schiff, and also a French-bred, raced well and got to second place at the final hurdle, but a serious bobble at this point cost him ground, and whatever chance he had of overhauling his stablemate.

10 hurdlers faced starter George Cassidy, and with both Permian and Hyvania, notable trouble horses at the barrier, the debonair George took pains and got the field off to an excellent start except for Hyvania which broke tardily. Jimmy Murphy on Permian, which is now owned by the Dolphin Rock Stable, went to the lead but was quickly joined by *Gay Time 2nd, and these two led their field for about a mile and a half, with Songai leading the second division. Down the far side the last time, Permian lost some ground at several hurdles, which permitted *Gay Time to jump to the front and establish a daylight lead. These two were still a half a dozen lengths to the fore of the field at the time, but in the second division both Songai and *Muguet 2nd began to draw away and close on the top two. Around the last turn and up to the final hurdle, *Gay Time 2nd, presumably the pacemaker for the Schiff entry, forgot to tire, and he was five lengths on top at this point. *Muguet 2nd, closing strongly on the outside, passed Permian in the run to this hurdle, with *Galatian and Songai heads apart in fourth and fifth place. A bobble at this fence by *Muguet 2nd, an eye-filling four-year-old, cost him his chance, and with Permian tiring in the run in on the flat, *Galatian and Songai under the whip, closed slightly on the leader, but Thompson merely had to shake up his mount, and *Gay Time 2nd drew out in the last hundred yards. Time for the about two miles was 3:44 2/5, less than two seconds off the course record set by Semper Eadem six years ago over a hard course, in contrast to the soft turf for the Rouge Dragon.

In four starts in this country, *Gay Time 2nd, has won three, and placed behind Finnochio in his other start due to a bobble at the final hurdle. In the Rouge Dragon he confirmed the opinion that he is the best three-year-old through the field in not only this year, but in several past years.

The preceding day, Allison Stern's three-year-old Mycroft was the driving winner in a mile and a half hurdle test for non-winners of $1,000 of his own age. Well handled by Daniel Delaunay, Mycroft was kept in a striking position for more than a mile, then was sent to the lead over the last fence, and drew out in the stretch run to best C.R. Snowden's Nizam's Pet, which finished second after making the pace all the way until overtaken by the winner. Scout Mission was a distant third as was Hellanicus, these two never being close to contention.

On Wednesday, Mrs. H.T. McKnight's Saratoga $21,000 purchase, *Colorado Prince, scored an easy victory in The Yemasee at a mile and three quarters over hurdles. Paddy Smithwick who rode him kept the six-year-old import in fourth position most of the trip while following the pace set by Ruby Brick and Khumbaba, then went to the front rounding into the stretch and won by five easily. He ran well most of the way, but left something to be desired at at least three of the nine hurdles. Ruby Brick, the runner-up, ran a good race, and was easily second best with Blen More four and a half lengths further back, while Khumbaba faded to fourth position after a serious bobble two hurdles from home.

The following day, Mrs. M.G. Walsh's Mummer's Knot was the surprise winner of The Trough Hill at a mile and three quarters over hurdles, paying almost 15 to one and besting Mr. United, the odds-on choice by two lengths. Thrust, the third horse, ran surprisingly well, and might have been closer with better racing luck, while *Narcissus 2nd, which finished fourth, raced well for half the distance then gave way in the final quarter.

Rolling Rock Hunt Race Meeting

Ares Wins Featured Rolling Rock Hunt Cup

Cherwell Scores In Debut Over Timber

Chris Wood, Jr.

Rolling Rock 1st Day

Favored by fair weather, some 4,000 followers of racing between the flags were on hand for the opening day of the Rolling Rock Hunt Racing Association's two-day meeting on Wednesday, October 3. Serving as a warm-up for Saturday's renewal of the International Gold Cup, the Rolling Rock Hunt Cup served as the feature on the mid-week program.

Relishing the firm going, which favored the picturesque course near Ligonier, Pa., the Bellevue Farms Ares found little trouble in turning back the favored Billing Bear to account for the 2 mile brush event. Aply handled by Melvin Ferral, the 6-year-old *Adaris--Miss Briar gelding permitted Mrs. Gregory McIntosh's Sonabo and Morris H. Dixon's *Palaja to set the pace over the first 3 fences. Moving into contention over the 4th, Ares showed the way until the 9th obstacle was reached. At this point, the favored Billing Bear was moved to the front by jockey James Murphy and the pair held their advantage over the final 5 of 13 brush jumps. Landing over the last fence 1 1/2 lengths to the good of Ares, Billing Bear looked all over a winner. However, Melvin Ferral went to work on his mount in the uphill stretch run and urged him on to defeat the tiring Billing Bear by 2 lengths. The latter finished 1 1/2 lengths in front of Mrs. A.J. Smithwick's Crag, which bested the Tremont Farms' *Seregal by a scant nose for the show award. *Palaja, Goose Bay and Sonabo completed the field, finishing as named.

In scoring his first victory over brush since he won at Middleburg in the spring, Ares covered the 2 mile route in 4:16 1/5 and picked up a net sum of $1,610 from the $2,500 purse. With owner Samuel B. Eckert absent and trainer W. Burling Cocks saddling another horse at Belmont Park, Melvin Ferral accepted the silver awards.

Fresh from a victory over brush in the Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase at Fair Hill, Md., W.C. Robinson, Jr.'s Cherwell made his debut over timber in the A.

M. Byers 3rd Cup and performed like a seasoned cross-country horse. Ridden by Grover Stephens, the half-brother of Elkridge fenced exceedingly well, putting in only one bad fence during the 2 1/2 mile journey. Leaving the tape like he was going 6 furlongs, the Saxon Woods Farm's Navy Talk led the small field over the first obstacle. This advantage was held during the down hill run and ended when he hit the 2nd fence, sending his rider sliding over the turf. Instead of going to the barn like a sensible horse, Navy Talk remained to be remounted by apprentice J. Aitcheson. While this was taking place, James F. McHugh's Which Run, another making a debut over timber, took over the lead with Cherwell in close attendance. Tiring after 1 1/2 miles, Which Run gave way to Cherwell, while George T. Weymouth's Flash B., under Eugene Weymouth, moved up to challenge. The latter got to within a head of Cherwell over the 12th, but could do no better. Leading over the 15th and final fence by a length, Cherwell moved away in the uphill stretch to win by 3 lengths. Flash B. held the place award safe, 20 lengths to the good of Which Run. Tiring badly, the latter finished a length to the good of Navy Talk. Turner Wiltshire's Friars Fool, the only other starter, was never within shouting distance of the others and was pulled up by Elwood Carter after the 12th fence.

In making his first start over timber a winning one, the Sidney Watts, Jr.-trained jumper negotiated the 2 1/2 miles and 15 fences in 5:27 1/5. By *Rhodes Scholar--Best By Test, the 9-year-old gelding is a well-bred half-brother to the redoubtable Elkridge, the world's largest money-winning steeplechaser.

Rolling Rock Hunt Race Meeting

Timber Race Goes To Dancing Beacon
*Seregal International Gold Cup Winner

Chris Wood, Jr.

Rolling Rock 2nd Day

Morning showers cleared away and a brisk wind swept the Loyalhanna Valley for the 2nd and concluding day of the Rolling Rock Hunt Racing Association's popular meeting. It was estimated that about 16,000 persons filled the stands, parking spaces and the hillsides of the valley and Herbert A. May, chairman of the race committee observed that a sum exceeding $50,000 would be turned over to the Industrial Home for Crippled Children in Pittsburgh, due to the excellent turnout.

Considered a distance outsider by the various experts, *Seregal owned by William H. Frantz' Tremont Farms pulled off a surprise victory in the 20th running of the featured International Gold Cup. Ridden by the owner's son, William H. Frantz, Jr., the 6-year-old French-bred gelding got up in the final strides to win by 1 length over Mrs. Cordelia Scaife May's Billing Bear, with Morris H. Dixon's favored Pine Shot a neck behind for 3rd money. Making his debut over brush, Major General Richard K. Mellon's homebred Chambourg finished 4th, 6 lengths off Pine Shot.

Attempting to use the speed which carried Chambourg to 4 winning races over hurdles this season, James Murphy hustled the 4-year-old gelding away 1st in the field of 8 hopefuls. Leading over the 1st fences by a head, Chambourg went on to increase his advantage, leading over the 8th by 6 lengths. As the *Rufigi gelding showed the way, Pine Shot and *Palaja, both owned by Morris H. Dixon, ran 2nd and 3rd as named. Tiring after the 12th jump, Chambourg gave way to Pine Shot, who led up the hill to the last fence with Billing Bear moving in to furnish contention. Coming from 7th in the early stages, *Seregal closed to be within 1 length of Pine Shot and Billing Bear as they sailed the final jump, with a 1/2 length separation. Plying the whip in the stretch run, Billie Frantz urged his mount to the utmost to pass the leaders and win with a length to spare. Billing Bear finished 2nd, a neck to the good of Pine Shot, while the tiring Chambourg finished 4th, 6 lengths behind. The only casualty in the gruelling test was brought off at the 15th jump, where Mrs. G.S. McIntosh's Sonabo fell with William Mason while tiring. The rider was not injured and returned to ride in the final race of the day.

Tremont Farms, registered owner of the French-bred winner, is the racing nom de course of William H. Frantz, president of the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club, which will have its annual fall race meeting on October 20. Still an apprentice rider, William, Jr., received the famous laurel wreath from Mrs. Richard K. Mellon, along with his mother and father in the winner's circle. Also present, and bursting with pride, was Miss Patricia Glennon, Billie's fiancée and bride-to-be in November. Trained by M.G. "Mickey" Walsh, *Seregal covered the 2 1/2 miles and 16 brush jumps in 5:32 and furnished Walsh with his second victory in hunt racing's brush Classic. Last year the conditioner from Southern Pines, S.C., saddled Crag, then owned by Mrs. Walsh.

Fresh from a victory in a 1 mile turf race on Wednesday, Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Jr.'s Dancing Beacon scored an easy victory in the Western Pennsylvania Hunt Cup, 3 mile timber feature. Permitting Turner Wiltshire's Friars Fool to open up a long early lead, Melvin Ferral held his mount in 2nd position and waited for the front-runner to tire. Friars Fool obliged after 5 fences and Dancing Beacon took over the pace-making chore and never relinquished it for the balance of the gruelling hill-and-dale journey. Leading Capt. J.L.B. Bentley's homebred Gillian over the last of 18 fences by 2 lengths, Dancing Beacon went on to score by 4 lengths in 6:25 4/5. Ridden by her trainer, Grover Stephens, Gillian saved the place award a 1/2 length in front of W.C. Robinson, Jr.'s Cherwell. George T. Weymouth's Star Salome finished 4th and last, after Stokes Lott pulled up the finished Friars Fool.

Emulating Wednesday's victory, but this time with the owner and trainer present, *Evian accounted for the Laughlinton, much to the pleasure of Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy and trainer W. Burling Cocks. Ridden by A.P. "Paddy" Smithwick, *Evian took over the lead from the Dolphin Rock Stable's Permian after landing over the 10th and final hurdle and went on to win by 2 lengths. Harry M. Rhett, Jr.'s Port Call, an early pace-setter in the 2 mile race finished 3rd, 1 1/2 lengths behind Permian. Besting 5 contenders, the winner negotiated the route in 4:14 3/5 over soft turf.

After finishing 2nd to Fighting Byrne on Wednesday, Miss Mary Rumsey's Tall Mound reversed the order in the Baywood at 1 3/4 miles over hurdles. Going to the front after following Kwango over the 1st hurdle, Tall Mound never relinquished his advantage to eventually win by 4 lengths under William Mason. Trained by Sidney Watters, Jr., the winner covered the distance in 4:05 2/5. Running 2nd behind the winner for most of the trip, Fighting Byrne finished in that position, 1 1/2 lengths to the good of James N. Andrews' Last Look. A field of 8 went postward and Morris H. Dixon's Chillick became a casualty when he fell over the 7th hurdle. His rider Edwin Deveau was not injured.

Showing improvement of her Wednesday race when she finished 2nd to Dancing Beacon, Televisé accounted for the 1 mile Laurel Ridge turf race which closed two excellent days of sport. Owned and trained by Morris H. Dixon, the 3-year-old filly ridden by Kenneth Field beat Mrs. William Cox Wright's Side Light under Ed Deveau by 2 1/2 lengths. Coupled with the winner, the latter is also trained by Morris H. Dixon. Furnishing contention throughout, Dr. J.B. Youmans' Rebel Girl finished 3rd, a neck behind Side Light and a neck in front of George T. Weymouth's *Ship Ahoy 2nd. Aply ridden by her young rider, the sophomore filly covered the "about" 1 mile turf test in 1:41 1/5.

STEEPLECHASING AT BELMONT

JOHN E. COOPER

In one of the biggest upsets of the steeplechase year, Alvin Untermyer's Morpheus stunned all but a handful of the thirteen thousand patrons who witnessed the $17,850 Brook Steeplechase Handicap on Thursday, Sept. 27th. Under 130 lbs. the four-year-old gelded son of Lovely Night negotiated all sixteen fences in good style, never put a wrong foot down and won by seven lengths to the tingling mutual jingle of $101.10. He was ridden by John Knowles, a twenty-one-year old apprentice rider from Wilmington, Del., who was riding his first stakes winner, and only the 4th win of his career.

Morpheus led home Pine Shot, Sundowner, Mighty Mo, Ancestor, Carthage and Basilia in that order. Two other starters did not complete the course. Landscaping fell at the 13th. Flaming Comet was pulled up lame.

Shortly after the break, Pine Shot, with 132 lbs. went to the front, and under Eddie Deveau set a moderately fast pace with Ancestor, Flaming Comet and Mighty Mo in close attendance, as the field raced down the back stretch the first time. At the fourth fence, Basilia made the first of a series of costly bobbles, all but going on her nose, and almost unseating Scottie Riles. At the next fence, Mighty Mo pecked giving Albert Foot a bad time. Coming by the stands the first time, Pine Shot led by six or seven lengths, with the eventual winner now fourth, several lengths behind Ancestor and running neck and neck with Mighty Mo. Approaching the clubhouse turn, just about midway for the two and a half mile distance, the field was spread out, but except for Basilia, which had continued to brush through her fences, the remainder of the field was still in contention.

Midway down the far side the last time, the running order continued much the same except that Ancestor, Morpheus and Mighty Mo running closely bunched, started to close the gap on Pine Shot. Sundowner was a close fifth, but the rest of the field were out of it. Approaching the fourteenth fence, Knowles on Morpheus ranged up with Pine Shot and jumped into the lead at this point. Around the last turn, Ancestor started dropping back, while Mighty Mo and Sundowner, under a drive, together with Pine Shot made a futile effort to catch Morpheus. However, the Untermyer horse met the last one about a half a dozen on top, landed well, and then increased his lead in the run to the wire. Pine Shot was all out for the runner-up position, but behind him, Sundowner closed well, to outrun Mighty Mo from the last jump to the finish line, while Ancestor was a weary fifth, and the remainder of the field were "up the track." Morpheus' time for the about two miles was a fast 4:43 2/5, a little more than four seconds off the course record, but good for the soft going. In ten previous starts this year, Morpheus had only one winning effort, the Adjacent Hunts Hurdle race in May. In his last start, in the Broad Hollow, he made up some ground in the closing stages, but was beaten about nine lengths by Shipboard. Searching for a race to figure this horse on, one must go back to the 1955 Rolling Rock meeting, when Morpheus, as a three-year-old, ran up and down hills and at a long two miles over hurdles beat Ring o'Roses.

While not taking away from his performance in the Brook for which the Adams had done a splendid job, it is difficult to find an excuse for some of the others in the field which ran pounds off their best races.

Opening infield race of the week went to W.M. Duryea's Breakers Ahead who came from behind in a two mile hurdle race, and in a hard drive drew abreast of Mr. United at the last hurdle and then outgamed that one on the flat to score by two lengths. A length and a half further Jockey Willie Shoemaker recently shattered his own world's record compiled in 1954 by riding horses whose earnings during the current year total $1,976,760.

JOCKEY HECKMANN TIES RECORD

At Hawthorne Park on October 2nd, Jockey Heckmann rode seven winners out of eight mounts, only three of which were favorites. This is the second time in turf history that this has been accomplished. On October 18th, 1930, Jimmy Sylvester equalled it at Ravenna Park, Ohio.

LADIES' SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD TO MRS. THOURON

The Kentucky Thoroughbred Breeders' Association has selected Mrs. John R.H. Thouron of Wilmington, Delaware, for its Ladies' Sportsmanship Award for 1956, which will be presented at the association's annual dinner party in Louisville on November 10th. Mrs. Thouron has been notably successful in campaigning horses on the flat and over jumps and also maintains the Glencoe Farm for her breeding stock near Unionville, Pennsylvania.

THE CHRONICLE MRS. HANES' MISFORTUNE

Mrs. John Hanes, wife of the president of the Greater New York Association, has had bad luck with her smart 3-year-old filly Victoria Cross, the favorite for last spring's English One Thousand Guineas in which she finished up the track although cheered on by her owner who had crossed the Atlantic to see her run. In the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes at Ascot on the 29th of September, jockey Manny Mercer went over the filly's ears as the tapes came up at the start and stood holding the reins as the other runners set off on their journey of a mile.

announced that at the latter institution this winter there will be no optional races for sprinters and none for cheaper horses except at the longer distances. As a consequence, the cheaper sprinter is likely to find little opportunity at the coming Santa Anita Meeting.

LIKE JUMPING RACES BETTER

The recent winning of the Jolly Roger Hurdle Handicap by Independence, 4-year-old full brother to the two-year-old Bold Ruler, after completely failing in flat races, calls attention to other horses which have run more kindly over jumps including Cain Hoy's Flying Fury, which developed a complete aversion to flat racing after being well considered for the Kentucky Derby.

KELLY TO TRAIN FOR

MARTIN AND PHIPPS

As of October 1st, Thomas J. Kelly will take over the racing stable of Townsend B. Martin, secretary of Monmouth Park. Later in the season he is expected to take over the horses of Mr. Martin's uncle, John S. Phipps, who maintains a breeding farm at Middleburg, Virginia.

PONY MARE PRODUCES POINT-TO-POINT WINNERS

A 14.1 bay pony mare, bred on Exmoor (England) of unknown parentage and belonging to R. J. Hurford near Okehampton has produced, to the cover of three different Thoroughbred stallions, the point-to-point winners Torridge, Sally Ann II and Flying Tail which have run in 20 races and have been placed 18 times.

Ellsworth Dislikes Turf Racing

Rex Ellsworth, breeder and part owner of Swaps, compares American turf courses unfavorably with French courses on the ground that the inside rail in France is frequently moved so that the horses run over a strip which is not cut up.

TAYLOR YEARLING SALES

E.P. Taylor, the big man in Canadian Racing and Breeding had a showing of his 34 yearlings at Windfields Farm on September 9th. Eighteen were offered for sale with price tags ranging from $5,000 to $30,000. Thirteen of these were contracted for by purchasers to total $97,500, an average of $7,500.

The most expensive ones were not sold as doubtless was Mr. Taylor's hope. Great things are expected from the brown filly by Bull Page out of *Lady Angela by Hyperion, a half-sister to the crack Canadian bred 2-year-old Neartic by Nearco whose price was $30,000; from the bay filly by Windfields out of Flaring Top by Menow at $25,000; and from the Bull Page filly out of Bolesto by *Filestio at $20,000.

E.P. Taylor has set about the upgrading of Canadian racing on a larger and more ambitious scale than any man in the history of Canada. He has not held back his best stock for his own racing stable but has offered them all at a price. Colts he sold at a similar sale last year have done extremely well for their purchasers.

Bill Beasley got two of this year's offerings, paying $10,000 for each, the bay colt by Chop Chop out of Famous Maid and the dark bay filly by Bull Page out of Rustic Charm. Jim Boylen bought the bay colt by Chop Chop out of Solar Display for $10,000 and the brown filly by Windfields--Your Grace for $10,000 and a filly by Bull Page--Merry Quiz for $5,000.

Others sold are as follows: br.c., by Chop Chop--Jacquita, J.E.F. Seagram...$7,500; b.c., by Bull Page--Gaiety, H.C. Burton...$5,000; b.c., by Windfields--Phyllovina, C.F.W. Burns...$5,000; B.F., by Chop Chop--Consort, Maloney and Smythe...$10,000; ro.f., by Bull Page--FloraDora, Col. K.R. Marshall...$5,000; b.f. by Chop Chop--Miss Ruston, F.A. VIRGINIA

MRS. LUNN, SPORTSWOMAN

Kent Cochran, writing in Triangle Publications says: "We believe the turf should extend a vote of thanks to Mary Elizabeth Lunn of Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Virginia, for her contribution to its popularity and welfare, season 1956. We doubt that the sportsmanship she has shown this year has ever been excelled. It has been equalled but rarely. This summer at Hollywood Park, when facing almost certain defeat by Swaps, she sent Mister Gus and Porterhouse in against him time and again, "to make a race of it." Had she withheld her two stars, the Ellsworth colt would have had virtual walk-overs in some of the limited handicaps which drew such huge crowds to the Inglewood course.

"She flew Mister Gus to Chicago and ran him the second day after his arrival, the time he beat Summer Tan, Sir Tribal, and Fisherman. She ran "Gus" twice at Atlantic City under respectable weight, and then sanctioned his meeting the vaunted Nashua under equal weights at a time when any handicapper must surely have allotted the Combs colt 15 pounds more than the Llangollen stallion had the conditions been other than weight-for-age."

MR. AND MRS. CHURCH BUY
CLAIBORNE WEANLINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church 2nd of North Cliff Farm, Rixeyville, Virginia, during the course of a recent visit to A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, Kentucky, for the purpose of purchasing weanlings were given their choice of no less than 31. After considerable cogitation they selected six colts and four fillies which will be shipped to North Cliff to join the ten home-bred weanlings, all of which will be readied for next August's Saratoga Sales. The colts include a bay by Double Jay out of Flaming Top and thus a full brother to Doubledogdare and Illuminator; a bay by *Nasrullah out of Meadow (by Bull Lea) a daughter of the great South American mare *Miss Grillo; and a chestnut by Jet Pilot out of Play Mary Jane, dam of the stakes winner Mrs. Rabbit. Among the fillies is a bay by *Turn-to out of Yellow Flower, dam of the stakes winner Loidale. A number of the home-bred colts are also out of stakes producing mares notably a bay which is a three-quarters brother to Vulcan's Forge, being by *Mahmoud--Great Eyes; a chestnut by Sun Again out of Lask, dam of Petit Bleu; and a bay by Coaltown out of Noticing, dam of Pot Hunter.

REGISTRATION CHANGES

At a recent meeting between Marshall Cassidy, executive secretary of The Jockey Club, and representative breeders at the Thoroughbred Club of America, Lexington, Kentucky, to discuss possible changes in the rules for registering Thoroughbred foals, it was generally agreed that if a mare is shown to be barren forty days after service to a stallion and then is bred to a second stallion, only the name of the latter horse should appear on the registration certificate. It was also tentatively agreed that a foal produced by a mating after February 15th should be a member of the age group born after January 1st regardless of the actual date of birth.

THE CHRONICLE

STALL SPACE AND THE YEARLING MARKET

Because of acute shortage of stall space at the race tracks as compared with the number of foals bred each year, many breeders believe that the market for yearlings with medium credentials is becoming steadily worse. Buyers with a given amount to spend prefer to buy fewer horses with better credentials at higher prices.

FLEET BIRD TO ILLINOIS

A syndicate of eight Chicagoans have recently purchased from Calumet Farm the 7-year-old stallion Fleet Bird (Bull Lea--Birdlea) for $60,000. During his racing career Fleet Bird won $272,875 and set a new world record of 1:52 2/5 for the mile and three-sixteenths at Golden Gate in 1953. Syndicate members include Edward Ginsburg, owner of Woodview Farm; Jack Hogan, owner of Jacnot Stable; Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington Park-Washington Park; H.D. Maggio, part owner of the stakes-winning Ben A. Jones; Harry L. Nathenson, owner of the foreign-bred grass star, Blue Choir, and vice-president of Balmoral Jockey Club; Russell L. Reineman, president of Balmoral; Edwin C. Roth, Jr.; and William J. Schmidt, owner of North Shore Farm.

back Nizam's Pet ran a good race on or close to the pace for most of the trip, but then "ran out of gas" in the last quarter. Breakers Ahead is trained by Arthur White, and may be classed as one of the most honest jumpers in training at the present time. In sixteen starts during the current year, he has won two, and shared in the purse in 12 other races.

On Tuesday, Glencannon won his fourth steeplechase of the year for owner Allison Stern and trainer J.V.H. Davis, leading home Coveted, Billing Bear and His Boots. Off rather slowly, and then in tight quarters around the far turn the first time, Murt Hoey rated the gelded son of Easton for almost a turn of the field, then went to the lead nearing the ninth jump, and was never in danger afterward, winning by nine lengths. Coveted, the pacemaker for more than a mile, hung on well after being headed, and easily bested Billing Bear for the place. Glencannon's time for the about two miles was 3:45 3/5.

The following day Bobby Davis again saddled the winner, Happy Hill Farm's Jet Command, which took command late in the race and won by five, with Cammell Laird, running an improved race to look like a winner two hurdles from home and lasting well to garner the runner-up award in this two mile hurdle under claiming conditions. Heureux 2nd and Get Lost finished third and fourth in the order named, but were never dangerous. Paddy Smithwick on Bombez took a fall on the flat in this race when he cut one of the beacons rather close coming into the stretch, and was bumped by the horse inside him, throwing him off balance for a fall which was as embarrassing as it was painful.

The two mile 'chase on Friday, Sept. 28th, resulted in a minor upset when six horses took on the job of defeating John M. Schiff's Carafar, making his return to the racing scene after being absent since his accident with Sundowner in the Indian River at Delaware Park. Held at less than even money in the betting, Carafar, like most of the field, found the slippery going more than he could handle. After setting the pace for more than a turn, and shaking off Bombez, when that one went almost to her nose on a slippery landing, Carafar also landed poorly and then tired in the stretch run and wound up third, with Isadore Bieber's Basil Bee taking the lion's share of the purse under Earl Phelps. Marcheast, a confirmed mud-runner, garnered the place award. Twenty five lengths behind Carafar, Bombez ran fourth. All seven in the field completed the course, but an overabundance of rain had left a certain amount of water close to the surface, and while jumping well enough, a horse would slip on landing, with the result that at the finish horses were strung out for an eighth of a mile. Basil Bee was bred by his owners, the Hirsch

Jacobs Stables, and recently won two races over hurdles. This was his second effort over the larger fences, and he took to them well.

FALLEN ANGEL RETIRED

The retirement ceremonies for Fallen Angel, owned and ridden for many years by Judy McCormick, marked a impressive highpoint at the Oregon State Fair Horse Show. The mare has shown for a number of years in Oregon and California with a good degree of success. She is now turned out to pasture in the Horse Heaven country of eastern Washington. The wreath of flowers, donated by a local florist were presented by Gerry Pearson, who acted as junior judge in the hunter and jumper divisions. C.McC.

FAIRFIELD JUNIOR

The weather couldn't have been more pleasing and the show grounds couldn't have looked better for the Fairfield Junior Horse Show. It seems that every year the show gets bigger and better. It's now considered one of the largest junior shows in the East.

Sydney Gadd and his Atom Power came up from Maryland for their second year and won a second leg in the conformation hunter class. They also won blues in the two-day working hunter event, the hunter hack class, the hunter stake and of course they won the junior hunter championship.

It was unbelievable that the pony classes campaigner Valley Mist, well ridden by the reserve best child rider, Wick Havens. Sydney Smith's Bittersweet won her second reserve of the weekend, (Rosetree on Sat.) by outhacking Debbie Bucharan on Sweet Timothy.

This year a novice championship was offered for the first time. Up and coming Winkie Buchanan was pinned reserve to little Leelie Godshalk who is one of the most capable and game riders among the under thirteen riders in this area. A second and greater honor was bestowed upon Leelie when she was named the recipient of the Delphine Raines Sharpless Memorial Sportsmanship Award, offered for the first time by a group of friends of the late Mrs. Samuel J. Sharpless. Each child on the grounds wearing an armband was judged by a circulating "mystery judge" throughout the day on sportsmanship, had so many entries in them. All three divisions were filled more than they have been in the past.

The horsemanship classes were bigger than ever. Tops in the maiden, novice and limit classes was Judy Gimbel and medal-winner Wendy Hanson was pinned reserve champion under Mike Plumb.

PICKERING PONY

"Keep it in the family" was the word for Betsy Lockhart's best child rider victory. Sister March, who retired the previous trophy last year, had the pleasure of presenting her new trophy (the Valley Acres Challenge Trophy, named for the Lockhart homestead) to Betsy at the conclusion of the show.

The pony championship went to that old

SHOW STORIES

DELAWARE COUNTY

Patricia Skinner did a wonderful job amidst the mud and rain in the horsemanship classes and at the end of the day was awarded her first equitation tricolor. Reserve to Pat was Betsy Lockhart who was named Best Child Rider at Pickering last week. Betsy's mare June Bride also stepped down from championship honors last week to the reserve spot this time behind Barbara Smith's very honest Gold Garter, the children's hunter champion.

On Sunday Mr. & Mrs. F. M. Mitchell won their first of three championships when their Fox Valley Farms' two-year-old Ghost Hunter was named Best Young Horse and winner of the James S. Sweeney Memorial Trophy. Ghost Hunter's victory gave the Mitchells' permanent possession of the trophy which previous offspring had acquired in '53 and '54.

The Fox Valley horses walked away with both the green conformation and green working division awards. Mrs. Harry Gill rode First Mate to reserve in both divisions in addition to piloting Regency Rake to the top position in the green working stake which assured him the tricolor. The Farms' Friday, with Pat Lockhart up, won his first tricolor over jumps when he was pinned green conformation champion. Pushing the leaders in both divisions were the Farms' Timberette with Wendy Wood Humphries aboard and Bruce Wampler on his well-mannered Ebb Tide.

Jenepher McLean continued her Quentin success with Monty D in the working division by taking the tricolor here over the Paxsons' Chappaqua. In contention throughout the day, too, was Betty Baldwin's Jayber who put in sensational rounds to win both the handy and the stake.

The Mary Bigham Fieber Memorial Amateur Working Hunter Trophy was retired when Robbie McKinnon rode his father's (James D.) Tarad to his third blue ribbons (previous wins by Tarad in '49 and '53) in the class, thus giving Mr. McKinnon permanent possession of the trophy.

Phyllis Lose's bid for the jumper tricolor (and for permanent possession of the Harry Norman Ball trophy) proved successful, much to the delight of her many supporters. Casadol proved that the decrease in her showing appearances has in no way affected her full-speed-ahead style. Bud Evans provided tough competition for the pair though during the day as he and Mrs. E. T. Hirst's Anytime ended up reserve to Casadol. Fencepost.

BULL RUN HUNT

It has been said that horse people are sometimes a bit mad. At 8:00 in the pitch dark the Manassas show exhibitors were asked if they wanted to go on with the knock down and out. Their answer was yes. The show continued with the last hack class run in the uneven glow of carlights, and the final totalling of points illuminated by matches or anything else that was handy. To the champions however, it was well worth the hardship, for they had won over a field of top horses. The hunter tricolor went to Harry Newman's General Patton, who won both the working and open hunter classes. His lovely trips were followed by those of Mrs. A.C. Randolph's Black Atom who took the reserve.

John Pettibone Jr.'s handsome bay, Gallery Lad, was ably ridden to the green working hunter tricolor by Robert Kearns. Johnny, unfortunately away at school, was unable to see Gallery take a ribbon in every class and finish with a two point lead over Seafoam, who is owned by Joe Kinchloe.

In the jumper division, Wally Holly did an excellent job of riding Chuck Ackerman's Little Irishman to championship, while Jimmy Cantwell's Hurricane Edna jumped her way to reserve.

THE CHRONICLE

Competition was also keen in the pony division where Moonbeam, ridden by Bobbie Gardner, edged her way to victory over Richard Zimmerman's veteran Pinocchio.

Amory Hutchinson's Night Command topped the junior field with 8 points, and Richard Zimmerman came in for another reserve with Lady of Peon who had 7.

ECHO FALLS FARM

Landslide is the word for the Henry D. Paxson's success at Echo Falls. With Mrs. Paxson up, San Marco placed no lower than second in every class to wind up hunter champion by sixteen points over his nearest competition.

Before the hunter stake class pinning the J. D. MacKinnons' Tarad looked like the obvious winner and reserve hunter champion. Fate, however, entered the picture and Tarad jogged out lame when called first in the stake. With Tarad out and the subsequent horses one notch higher, the Harry Brown's fifth third place ribbon with their Dark Savage made 'Savage' tied with Tarad (who had won the only other two classes he'd entered) for reserve. The latter's temporary unsoundness decided the tie and the ribbon went to Dark Savage, again galloped and jumped to perfection, to add another tri-color to his collection.

The Masters Challenge Plate, which is presented to the winner of the Open Hunter Class, represents the judges own choice of a horse to go hunting on. Katherine Hall, on her Highbridge, turned in a safe, workmanlike performance to take this honor. With another blue in the Hack class, this pair wound up the afternoon with the reserve championship.

Another double winner was Jack Dunning's Sgt. Murphy, ridden by Anne Mac-hold. This smooth going chestnut jumped consistently to always be in the ribbons.

Five horses went postward for the Spire Point To Point, over approximately three miles of natural hunting country. From the very start, Skip Webster on his Titan set a hot pace and led all the way to win. Almost catching the leader near the end was Jack Becker aboard his Lucky Sun, a heretofore "dark horse" among championship contenders.

Entries were large from the New Jersey and New York areas. Hutchinson Stables' Peg's Pride and Shirley Weinstein's Early Mist accounted for the two jumper ribbons respectively, while Sue Archibald's constant Minute Man was pinned junior champion.

A dusk hack off for the tied reserve green working award put Milton Kulp, Jr's Firethorne ahead of the Paxsons' Night Tourist and reserve to the R. N. Tindle's bold fencing Far North. Fencepost

LIMESTONE CREEK

The Limestone Creek Hunter Trial, on Saturday, September 15, went off very well. The weather was cool, classes were well filled, and the competition keen for the 6th annual Trials held at Elk Horn Springs in Manlius, N.Y.

Although there were many fine rounds, three horses stood out from all others. Ted Roulston's outstanding black gelding, G Junior, who has been winning consistently at all the shows this season,

But this honest going grey couldn't quite do it and trailed the leader at the finish.

MINNESOTA FAIR

The $1,000 Conformation Hunter Stake was closely contested—Brown Bomber, owned by Maurice Roberts of White Bear, Minn. and ridden by Julie Whitman was first. Mary Warner riding her lovely chestnut gelding, Blaze Trail took second. After the judge, Mr. Edmond C. Bowen, Middlebury, Conn. added up the points for the five day show, War Genius, chestnut grandson of Man O'War, owned by Lyman Wakefield, Jr. of Minneapolis, and ridden by Zandra Morton Powers was awarded the coveted Conformation Hunter Championship, with reserve going to Brown Bomber. N.S.L.

In the $1,000 Working Hunter Stake, Mary Lou Opstad of White Bear, Minn., riding her father's bay Bunting's Brave won the class going away! Jack Morgan of the Woodhill Club, Wayzata, Minn. was 2nd. on What A Pity. The Championship Working Hunter of the show, after the points were added, was Mr. O'Malley owned and ridden by Julie Whitman; and reserve to Bunting's Brave, owned by Donald Opstad and ridden by his daughter, Mary Lou. This thoroughbred is one of the typiest ones we have in this hinter-land. N.S.L.

HORSEMANSHIP CLUB

The Annual Hunter Trials held by the Horsemanship Club of Montreal were recently held at Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobsen's, Harwood Farms, at Hudson, Quebec, Canada.

Spectators were treated to some excellent displays of riding in spite of the coolish day. Junior riders were in the fore all day long and the most remarkable win was that of Suzanne O'Connell when she won the coveted Curror Cup on Beau Geste. This cup has been in competition since 1883 when it was originally presented in Scotland to the winner of a three and a half mile point to point. It has been at the Hunter Trials since 1946 and this is the first time it has been won by a junior. To compete in the class for this cup one must be an amateur and the horse must have hunted. There were twenty entries in this class.

The courses are over natural hunting country and are about half a mile long while the Curror Cup course is three-quarters of a mile.

The Colin Campbell Memorial Trophy for Qualified Working Hunters was also won by an O'Connell horse, Silvery Cloud, with Lois McCann up. This class was open to horses that have regularly hunted with a recognized pack of hounds for one or more seasons.

The Carriere Trophy for Canadian Bred Hunters with nine entries was won by Frank Dillingham on his own Royal Hay Romp.

OREGON FAIR

Because of the untiring efforts of the Oregon Horsemen's Association, the Oregon State Fair Horse Show held on Sept. 1-8 was once again brought back into the Northwest scent. The show, managed by Max Manchester, was lauded by spectators and exhibitors alike.

Harry Chapman's good jumper, Spend-thrift had things pretty much his own way throughout the show, winning a good majority of the open classes and gaining the championship with hardly any effort.

Equally as sparkling in the hunter scene was Mrs. Harry Samuals' Phar Rhona, expertly ridden by Jerry Smith. This good grey mare who came upon the scene this year and has taken a nice majority of the green classes, but has not let her lack of years in the ring hold her back from taking a number of classes from older horses. She took the championship at this show in stride.

SHERMAN HAIGHT, Jr., M.F.H. WINS 100-MILE TRAIL RIDE

The 100 Mile Ride is much more than just a pleasant three-day ride through the beautiful Vermont countryside. It is an unusually fine test of nearly every type of pleasure and working horse which all horsemen should find interesting and instructive.

The trail horse, the working hunter, and the cow pony, to name but three, must have stamina and a sound way of moving in order to stand up to the type of work for which they have been bred. The 100 Mile Ride is as good a measure of these qualities as can be devised without presenting unusual difficulties for most owner-riders. In fact anyone with the ambition to condition a horse can compete effectively.

The three-day ride was of particular interest to me, as I think it should be to all foxhunters, for the hunter which will not finish well at the end of the 100 miles would not last to the end of a really good day in the hunting field. This is not to say, of course, that one rides 100 miles during a day's hunting. However, the pace at which one follows a pack of hounds for six or seven hours in the hunting field produces the same strain on the horse as the 100 Mile Ride in a much shorter period.

Horses which are bad movers because of physical defects or poor shoeing will soon show up in the 100 Mile Ride, just as they would during a season of hunting. Never so clearly have I seen the reasons why some horses will stand up under the pressure of consistent hard work and others break down.

Once, in Ireland, I rode a great horse which carried me behind the Ward Union Stag Hounds for four hours as they ran an outlying stag to bay. This horse was one of the few which lasted out that day, falling finally in his effort to jump the last ditch which bordered the field in which the stag was taken. Never before had I put a horse to such a test. Yet, such a day represented the culmination of all those things for which a hunter is bred. This particular horse was back in the hunting field again on schedule, proving not only that the animal could take the hardest of days behind hounds but also come back again to show the consistency required of a working horse.

It is my belief that the three-day, 100 Mile Ride provides an equally significant though less gruelling test.

Of course, condition plays an important part in the trail ride. The two mares that my wife and I brought to Vermont were given two weeks of steady exercise prior to the Ride. They were walked and trotted ten miles each day, the distance being covered in one hour and fifty minutes.

How to condition a horse for foxhunting or trail riding is a highly debatable question. Ideally, I believe, hunters coming off grass not later than mid-July should be walked for a couple of hours each day for three weeks and then walked and trotted ten miles each day for three more weeks, going the distance in about two hours. This six-week period, beginning with the middle of July, brings us to the time when nearly all packs of hounds in New England and New York State are cub hunting.

There are many who believe that the method of conditioning we find to be ideal is either too severe or not complete enough. While talking to a number of participants in the Ride, I found that many of them had given their horses much more exercise and training in preparation than 100-mile trail ride winner, Sherman Haight, Jr., M.F.H. Litchfield County Hounds, on Lady Montrose (by Capt. James) and Mrs. Haight on Miss Sultana (by Sailor King). Mr. Haight won the heavyweight division and the sweepstakes of the 21st Annual 100-mile Trail Ride of the Green Mountain Horse Assn., South Woodstock, Vt., on Aug. 30, 31, Sept. 1st. Mrs. Haight was third in the lightweight division. Both horses are out of Sultana (by Repulse) and were bred by Mrs. Haight's father, Malcolm Grahame, ex-M.F.H. of Rombout Hunt.

we had. Of course the degree of fitness with which a horse starts his training must have a great deal to do with the extent of the program. Our horses, which hunt about six months of the year and are fed grain all but a few days of the year when he grass is at its height, carry over a lot of condition. Each person entering the trail ride should consider carefully the amount of training required to bring his mount to the peak of condition.

It was interesting to note the horses in the Ride which interfered behind or overreached in front as they began to show fatigue. I am sure that the soundest mover in the world would do the same thing if he was not in condition.

THE CHRONICLE

Though I trained with the horse cavalry, and both my wife and I have been with horses all our lives, I do not believe that ever have we learned so much about horses in such a short time. The 100 Mile Ride is a good classroom.

The various placed winners in each division, as well as the winners of the special awards and trophies are listed below: Heavyweight Division - 1. ### SHERMAN HAIGHT, JR., M.F.H. WINS 100 MILE TRAIL RIDE

Sherman Haight, Jr. of Litchfield, Connecticut, was the Sweepstakes Winner at the Green Mountain Horse Association's Annual 100 Mile Trail Ride with his 9-year-old grey mare, Lady Montrose.

Mr. Haight is the Master of the Litchfield County Fox Hounds. Lady Montrose is a 15/16 Thoroughbred mare standing 16.2 hands, by Capt James out of Sultana and is regularly hunted by Mr. Haight. A half sister of Lady Montrose, Miss Sultana, ridden by Mrs. Sherman Haight, Jr., placed 3rd in the Lightweight Division.

The high quality and condition of the 59 contestants who started at 6:30 o'clock on Thursday morning, August 30th, from the Woodstock Inn Stables, is attested by the fact that 55 horses completed the course at South Woodstock on Saturday, September 1st, after 100 miles over Vermont hills and back roads, and with driving rain on both of the first two days adding to the rider's task.

The Green Mountain Horse Association's Ride ended Saturday, September 1st, at the Association's grounds in South Woodstock, with over 2000 spectators in attendance in perfect weather.

This was the largest crowd to date to watch this ride and public interest in this unique event increases each year. For the first time this year the Green Mountain Horse Association included in its program a special map to make it easier for the spectators to follow the ride each day.

For the past several years the 100 Mile Ride has been filled in advance with a waiting list. Also this year the record number of 127 people participated in the 50 Mile Pleasure Ride. Contestants in the 100 Mile Ride, ride 40 miles in 7 hours each of the first 2 days and 20 miles in 3 hours on the concluding day.

Peterborough Royal Foxhound Show

DAPHNE MOORE

There were fewer packs represented at this year's 68th Royal Peterborough Foxhound Show, on July 18th, 22 as opposed to 25, but the general standard was definitely higher. One much regretted absentee was the Portman, but it is interesting to note that this world famous kennel was so well represented in the pedigrees of the prize-winners that their Master was heard to remark that possibly he had had the best Peterborough of any! No fewer than eighteen of the winners, as well as both Reserve Champions and both Special Prize awards, were sired by Portman doghound. Playfair '51 being by far the most conspicuous.

The judges for the doghound classes were Major W.W.B. Scott and Captain Colin MacAndrew (M.F.H. Zetland) who were very quick and decisive. The judging began at 10:30 with a Novice class for kennels which had not won at Peterborough for ten years. Six packs competed, with a total of ten unentered doghounds, the winner coming from the W. Norfolk Dalesman. He was dark tan, white-fronted, with a magnificent bloom on his coat, and was placed above the light tan Victor, from the Four Burrow in Cornwall, a kennel whose hounds were very much in the public eye later in the day.

Unentered couples came from nine different kennels, and in this class the Battle of the Green Coats was inaugurated and continued almost throughout the show. The Duke of Beaufort's and the Heythrop (until the year 1835, all one country, hunted by the 5th and 6th Dukes successively) whose Hunt Staffs were green in contrast to the universal scarlet, both showed some outstanding hounds. In this class the Duke's entry consisted of two light-coloured qual-bots by Portman Playfair '51, but rather less well-matched. One of them, however, Spanker, went on to win the Special Prize for the best dog; compact and symmetrical, with a particularly strong back, he should prove a useful sire of the future. The Duke of Beaufort's Tiger, by Tetrarch '52, was Reserve for this prize.

A two couple class is always impressive and it takes a strong kennel to produce four really matching hounds of similar type, and, if possible, colour. However, seven packs competed, and again the Duke's were victorious, this light-coated quartet being of great quality and finish, and including a lovely first-season dog in Godfrey, by Portman Sailor '52, who was subsequently surrounded by an admiring crowd when seen outside in the grounds adjoining the kennels. The Middleton and Middleton east were second with four first and second season dogs, an impressive match and chiefly descended from former Peterborough winners; whilst the Percy, (The Duke of Northumberland's Kennel) produced a gay, multi-coloured entry for third place.

The Stallion Hound class is of immense interest. Here one can see the future foreshadowed, for any prize-winning sire at Peterborough is usually of such merit that his services will be sought by many other kennels. The Duke of Beaufort's tan and white Dresden ('53), a strong backed, compactly built dog, Special Prize winner of his year, Reserve Champion 1953, and sire of one of the winning two couples, was awarded first prize from seventeen others; whilst the handsome tricolour Democrat ('54) from the Earl Fitzwilliam's kennel, only a few miles from Peterborough, was a worthy second. The Heythrop showed a snow-white dog named Brigand ('54) which was very attractive with good neck and shoulder, and came into third place.

The judging of the Championship was eventually reduced to the former green-coated contestants from Badminton and Heythrop respectively. The Duke of Beaufort's stallion hound could not be overlooked and The Challenge Cup - presented by the Duke himself - was awarded to him against the young Heythrop dog, Spanker, who was in Reserve place.

During the latter part of the morning the show was honored by a visit from the Queen Mother, who appeared to take a great interest in the judging and congratulated the Duke's kennel huntsman on his success in the Stallion Hound class as she left the ring shortly before lunch.

THE BITCHES

The afternoon judging of the bitches commenced, in the capable hands of Major Maurice Barclay, MFH of the Puckeridge (which position he has held for nearly half-a-century) and Major Rupert Buchanan-Jardine, Joint-Master with his father of the Dumfriesshire Hounds in Scotland.

In the initial class, for Novice Bitches, the Four Burrow really began to catch the eye, winning both a first and fourth with daughters of S. Dorset Vulcan '50, two actively-built badger-bred bitches, the winner, Precious, being so-named as she was the sole survivor of a litter which was attacked by a virulent disease that carried off all the rest. An Army pack, The Royal Artillery, always puts up a sporting effort at Peterborough, the hounds being show by the Master. A few years ago it achieved a Reserve Championship with Daystar '52, whose daughter, Diligence was today placed second to the Four Burrow winner.

The Heythrop won first prize for unentered couples with two good-looking daughters by Portman Playfair, Chorus and Lesson, the latter going on to win the Special Award for the best bitch in the class. She was a tan-coated, well-developed hound with well let down hocks, won first prize at the Heythrop Puppy Show the previous month. The Duke of Beaufort's entry was placed second.

Class 7 for two couple of entered bitches included some extremely high-class hounds, coming from no less than ten kennels, as far apart as the Braes of Derwent in the North to the S. and W. Wilts in the South. When all forty were in the ring together it was an unforgettable sight. There was no denying that the Duke of Beaufort's quartet was outstanding, indeed such individual quality, multiplied by four, can seldom have been seen. They were indisputable winners, with two couple of pleasing bitches from the Percy in second place; and Pytchley and Avon Vale third and fourth respectively.

In the Brood Bitch Class the Four Burrow once more came into prominence. This pack was founded in 1780 and has been in the hands of the Williams family for a century, save for a brief interim early in the 1900's. A sheep was killed before leaving Four Burrow; part of this was fed to hounds on the way up and the remainder put into cold storage to eat on the return journey. All went well until they were within some twenty miles of Peterborough on the morning of the show, when the rear door of the hound van flew open unnoticed and the vehicle proceeded on its way, whilst its occupants were scattered all over the surrounding countryside! When the loss was discovered, it took a considerable time to round up the errant hounds, but all save one were retrieved by the commencement of the show. The absentee, a brood bitch, was recovered by the junior Joint-Master's young bride near the spot where hounds were kennelled the previous night, and arrived in good time for her class. Hounds were show by John Williams (son of the senior Master, Mr. Percival Williams), who shares the task of huntsman with his father.

The Brood Bitch Class was an exceedingly strong one; the Four Burrow, Duke of Beaufort's, Middleton and Heythrop being placed in that order. The winner is an elder sister of Four Burrow Precious, named Patsy '54 and, curiously enough had already crossed swords with the Duke's bitch, Parable '54, when both met as unentered hounds at the West of England Hound Show. On that occasion Parable was the winner; today Patsy achieved that distinction, with Parable second. Both are badger-pied, both are granddaughters of the influential S. Dorset Salesman '44, and I have no doubt that the progeny of both will be winning at Peterborough themselves in a few years to come. Middleton Courtly '51, a roomy type of matron, which won the Championship at Harrogate the previous week, was third; with a delightful tan bitch, Heythrop Lottery '53, in fourth place.

The Bitch Championship eventually narrowed down to a couple of light-coated ladies, the above-mentioned Patsy from the Four Burrow and the Duke of Beaufort's Pansy '54, litter sister to his brood bitch, Parable. Four Burrow Patsy is by S. Dorset Vulcan '50, the latter by Portman Playfair '51, both sons of S. Dorset Salesman '44, which has exerted a considerable influence on foxhound breeding today, largely through Portman Playfair, one of the greatest sires of modern times.

An amusing interlude took place when the Four Burrow bitch, attracted by the irresistible "hound-appeal" (in the form of liver) of the Duke's kennel-huntsman, joined the Badminton bitch. Side by side the two were show, willy-nilly, by Bert Pateman as a well-matched couple!

At length the ring-steward gave out the result, and Peterborough, that most staid and sober of institutions, has seldom witnessed such an outburst of applause as that which greeted the announcement that Patsy had won the Cup for his sporting Cornish kennel.

POLO AT BRANDYWINE

Bob Gallagher

On Wednesday night, September 5 in the Brandywine outdoor arena Philadelphia edged Maule Farms 9-7 in the "lead-off" game, while in the night-cap the local All Stars trounced the Blind Brook Polo Club of Purchase, N.Y. 12-3. Blind Brook fielded a good trio in the persons of Tommy Matlack, Tommy Glenn and Billy Westerlund. Individually each man is an expert and handled himself as such. However as a team there was something lacking as was evidenced by the way the All Stars turned back almost every goal attempt during the first half, perhaps because the visitors were unfamiliar with the mounts assigned to them. Ackerman finished the night with five goals, Taylor drove in four, while Stewart contributed three. Philadelphia took a 4-2 first chukker lead over Maule Farms, Lyle Phillips riding at back for Philadelphia scored three goals, never once neglecting his defensive duties. Included in his scoring was the difficult, check-turn and backhand successful goal effort. In the second period Philadelphia again outscored Maule to give them a 6-3 half-time lead. In the final period Maule outscored the Quaker City riders 3-2. From the middle of the third chukker the Maule trio played brilliantly but could not completely erase the deficit. Phillips was high man for his club with five goals while Fair and Weymouth divided honors with three goals each. Throughout the game five penalties were called against Philadelphia with Colonel Fair called upon to execute the free attempts. Of the five he successfully maced three. It may not be a record but it goes down as a first for this reporter.

CINCINNATI POLO

After 18 years' absence polo was officially reintroduced to Cincinnati on Labor Day, September 3, when the freshman Cincinnati Polo Club tackled the veteran El Rancho fortress from Worthington, Ohio. An excited audience of 2000 rooters cheered eagerly for the Cincinnati neophytes who initiated their new field on Kellogg Avenue in Cincinnati.

Although Cincinnati was defeated 10-4 by El Rancho, the newly organized Cincy team shows promise of becoming a top challenging polo team in the near future. Captain Ed Kennedy led his 7 goal handicap team through 6 chukkers.

The score was tied 3-3 in the second chukker. Then Walter Shapter sparked the El Rancho four in the third chukker to gain a 5-3 lead. El Rancho pulled away from Cincy in the fourth chukker to an 8-3 lead and pounded through 1 goal each remaining chukker to a final score of 10-4.

Three of Cincinnati's team, former Ohio State University polo captains, scored: Red (A.O.) Caldwell clashed mallets to give Cincy 2 goals, Dr. Ed Kennedy scored 1 goal and Dr. Frank Todd 1 goal. Others who played one or more chukkers were Bob Sieber, Dr. Jerome Fix, Frank Longevin, Milton Stulbarg, and John Stark.

Walter Shapter accumulated 4 goals for El Rancho, Frank Harris 3 goals, Bo Baker 1 goal, and ponies accommodated with 2 goals. Young Ron Davis rounded out the team for El Rancho.

Dr. Ed Kennedy of Cincinnati was invited to play with El Rancho September 7 in St. Louis where he scored as top man in a tight 5-4 game. El Rancho defeated St. Louis 5-4 with Dr. Kennedy slamming 3 goals.

The new Cincinnati team has given another boost to polo by making another large city aware of the sport of polo, and has already gathered an enthusiastic following among members of the general public and press. R.B. Wolf

BUTTERWORTHS SCORE 5 FOR BLIND BROOK WIN

Bill Briordy

The Blind Brook Polo Club's entry in the National 12-goal outdoor polo championship competition scored in the first round in the northeastern eliminations at the Blind Brook Club, Purchase, N.Y., on Sunday afternoon, August 19. Frank Butterworth Jr. and his son, Frank 3d, accounted for all the Blind Brook goals in that team's 5-4 success over the Fairfield Hunt Club quartet. The younger Butterworth got three of his team's tallies. Riding with the Butterworths were Adie von Gontard and Al Marenholz. Tommy Glynn, with two goals, and Bill Crawford, with one, were Fairfield's scorers. The losers had a one-goal handicap at the start.

A short shot by Herb Pennell with 45 seconds of play remaining enabled the Jericho poloists to gain a 5-5 deadlock with Meadow Brook in the weekly high goal match at the Meadow Brook Club, Jericho, L.I. Meadow Brook held a 4-2 half-time advantage in a match which saw Jericho notch three of its goals in the last two periods. Charles Leonard, riding at No. 1, paced Meadow Brook with four markers. Stewart Iglehart, ten-goaler, was back on the Long Island scene again. Stewart stroked two of Jericho's tallies.

At Bethpage State Park, Bethpage, L.I., Brookville turned back Wheatley Hills, 8-6, as Archie Young paced the winners with four goals. Steve Kaye hit three markers for the winners. Leverett Miller and Vince Rizzo each made three goals for Wheatley Hills.

SOUTHBURY POLO

ANN BRAUN

The Southbury Country Polo Association, after a brief stab at exhibitionism (at the Middlebury Hunt's Labor Day "Day in the Country" program), opened its home season on Sunday, September 9. Captain Chuck Gilson's favored Blue team were hard-pressed to defeat Dan Wallace's Reds by a 5-4 score.

Gilson was high man for the afternoon in two senses: he racked up four goals from his back position to lead in scoring and spent the majority of the game trying to remain astride his rearing, plunging mount. Wallace kept it an even battle with three tallies for the losers.

The Reds jumped to an early 2-0 lead on Wallace's two goals, but Charley Kellogg capitalized on a penalty shot to make it 2-1 at the half. Chuck Gilson hit his stride in the third period for two goals, while Nape Smith banged home one for the Red Team, for a 3-3 tie. Two more tallies by Gilson in the final chukker against one by Wallace polished it off at 5-4, giving the Blue the victory.

Kathy O'Connell added to Gilson's spectacular performance when she was knocked unconscious at the initial throw-in by her mount's tossing head. She continued to play, only to be thrown later in the game. Except for a large head bruise, she was unharmed.

The SCPA plans to continue its fall polo activity every Sunday until the snow flies, or until the middle of November.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS DIPLOMATS, 7-1

BILL CHEWNING

It was on Sunday September the 9th that the Washington Squires met the Diplomats, or the "Commonwealth Travellers" as they are sometimes called, in a match played at Barnsley Field, Olney, Md., in front of some 700 people.

The first chukker saw Dr. John Keeler of the Washington team split the uprights with a long driving near side shot. Seconds later Col. James Nelson and Mr. G. Mueenuddin of the Diplomats took the ball to the Squires' doorstep, only to be stopped by Washington's Halter Cunningham.

Washington's Dr. Keeler got the second chukker well underway less than 60 seconds after it had started with a near side back handler which found its mark.

In the 3rd, Washington's Don Bradley put one through for the 3rd goal of the game.

In the fourth, Don Bradley, being assisted by Dan Durham, took the ball from the throw in to the Diplomats goal and scored. A minute later Bradley was fighting it out with Comm. Krummick in front of Krummick's goal and Bradley scored again with an offside back shot. Only seconds before the chukker was over Washington's Dan Durham sent one through the uprights for Washington's 6th goal.

The 5th saw Halter Cunningham use an under the neck shot to sink Washington's last goal. Finally, the Diplomats began to spark. Lt. Col. Johnson, running interference for Col. Nelson, went the length of the field and, when they were well into the Washington territory, received a pass from Nelson. In turn he passed it to Mueenuddin who placed it at Nelson's side once more. With a spectacular offside back shot Nelson split the uprights making it 7 to 1.

The last chukker saw no goals made by either club.

ARCHIE YOUNG SCORES 8 AS BROOKVILLE DOWNS WHEATLEY HILLS

Bill Briordy

With Archie Young hitting eight goals from his position at No. 2, the Brookville poloists scored a 10 to 6 triumph over the Wheatley Hills four at Bethpage, L.I., State Park on Sunday afternoon, September 9. Brookville, collecting four goals in the opening chukker, enjoyed a 5-3 margin at intermission. Wheatley Hills was held to four goals in the first five periods. The winners finished off with two goals in each of the fifth and sixth stanzas. Young rode with Arthur Norden, Arthur Kaye and Fred Zeller against Bart Hickock, Leverett Miller, Dave Ellis and Bill Stoothoff. Miller, former Yale star, led his team with four goals.

At the Meadow Brook Club in Jericho, L.I., the Jericho four rallied in the second half to turn back Meadow Brook in a keen match, 7 to 6. Trailing by 5-3 at half-time, Jericho picked up three goals in the fifth chukker and added one in the sixth. Meadow Brook failed to score in the last period. Phil Iglehart got three goals, while Charles Leonard and Alan Corey made two each for Jericho. Pedro Silvero, with four tallies, and Pete Bostwick, with two, accounted for the Meadow Brook scoring.

MAULE FARMS TOP ALL STARS

Maule Farms topped the All Stars 4-1 on Sunday, September 9, at the Brandywine outdoor field. Two minutes had gone by in the third chukker before any scoring was done. Ted James banged in the first goal of the day for the Maule Club on a pass from "Frolic" Weymouth. Shortly after, Weymouth added another. In the final analysis it was the winning goal. The biggest scoring chukker was the fifth. Harley Williams led the Maule attack with two goals, while Don Ross contributed the lone All Star goal. This was one of the best defensive games played on the Brandywine Field this year.

H. A. "JIMMY" JONES, trainer at Calumet Farm, says:

"On Fabius, like all Calumet horses, I consistently use Absorbine..."

"I have been using Absorbine since 1920," says Mr. Jones. "It is particularly good for its tightening and cooling qualities, and is an excellent body bracer and astringent. I use it consistently on all of the Calumet Farm horses, and I don't know of any other liniment that will do so many things for a horse so well."

Since 1892, Absorbine has been a byword in stables where the conditioning and care of horses is a first consideration. It does not blister the skin or remove hair. A large bottle with complete instructions, costs only $2.50 at any druggist.

Hyde and with "a southern gentleman as huntsman, an English gentleman as Kennel huntsman and a full blooded American Indian as whipper-in." The Kennel huntsman referred to was Percy Picton formerly with Mr. Charles E. Mathers' Brandywine Hounds and before that with the Warwickshire in England. The Indian was Thomas Miles who later lived for many years in Westchester, Pennsylvania.

A very large number of people in the Essex country first learned about hounds and hunting under George Brice's guidance. He was extremely popular with the entire community over a forty-four year period and will be greatly missed. A crowning blow was the total loss of his daughter, Virginia's, stable struck by lightning, killing seven horses, while she was on the Eastern Shore for the funeral.

Very truly yours,

CANADIAN OLYMPIC PROGRAM

A program for the preparation and training of a Canadian Three Day Event Team for the next Olympics to be held in Rome in 1960 was outlined by Major General C.C. Mann at a dinner held at the Eglinton Hunt Club, Toronto, in honor of this year's Olympic Three Day Event Team, bronze medalists at Stockholm.

A number of property owners in King Township are making their land available as training grounds in three areas. Each area will be under the direction of one of this year's Olympic riders. Brian Herbinson drew the western area which includes the farm of L.J. McGuinness and which already has a fairly extensive cross-country course of obstacles. Jim Elder drew General Mann's properties which cover over 1,000 acres and John Rumble drew the North properties which take in the farms of J. Harold Crang, R.H. Rough, L.C. Scott, etc.

These properties afford untold possibilities as to constructing courses for the cross-country phase for a Three Day Event. This portion of King Township is steeply rolling, is well wooded with many water courses and has a number of existing substantial natural fences.

Commencing next year each area will stage an open Three Day Event, to be held in September, October, and November annually. It is anticipated that a substantial amount can be raised for the Olympic fund each year through these competitions - that through them new horses and riders will be developed and necessary experience gained.

W. S. Vosburgh wrote: "Boundless, who won his niche in the equine Hall of Fame by capturing the ($60,000) American Derby at Chicago in 1893, was a very moderate two-year-old, but did better as a three. Before he came to Chicago he had won but one race, the Little Rock Derby, and it was good odds about him. It was the year of the World's Fair, and a great field came to the post, attracted by the value of the race, $49,500. Clifford was there, so was G. W. Johnson, and Mr. Keene had sent St. Leonards, Mr. Dwyer had sent Don Alonzo and Mr. Gideon Ramapo from the East. It was quite an inter-sectional race. There was a delay of an hour and a half at the post. A quarter of a mile from the finish St. Leonards looked a winner, but Garrison brought Boundless through with a whirlwind finish and won. Mr. Cushing, the owner of Boundless, followed the Eastern colts to Sheephead Bay for the Realization; but an outsider, Daily America, won. Boundless was a son of Harry O'Fallon, he by Australian. He was a good colt but the delay for the Derby, no doubt, affected some of the others more than it did him."

At Belmont Park to watch her winner of England's Triumph Hurdle make his first start here, Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy failed to see her *Evan win the Rector, a 2 mile test for hurdlers of the claiming class. Giving trainer Cocks the first of a triple for the day, *Evan turned back Miss Mary Rumsey's Tall Mound by 1 1/2 lengths to pick up a net of $960 from the $1,500 purse. Fading after setting the pace from the 6th to the 9th hurdle, Harry M. Rhett, Jr.'s Port Call finished 3rd in the field of 5. Randolph Rouse's Curly Joe finished 4th and last after Mrs. L.R. Drechsler, Jr.'s Lowlands was pulled up by William Small, Jr., after trailing his field over 8 hurdles. Ridden by Earl Phelps, the winner covered the 2 miles and 10 hurdles in 4:07 1/5.

Shouldering 152 pounds, composed mainly of James Murphy, C.R. Snowden's Fighting Byrne broke from the maiden ranks in an easy fashion when he turned back 10 contenders to win the Malcolm McGiffin Cup. Running 3rd over the 1st of 9 hurdles on the 1 1/2 mile course, Fighting Byrne moved into the 2nd position as Morris H. Dixon's Ripshot set the pace. Called upon after the 5th, Fighting Byrne moved to the fore and increased his advantage for the balance of the trip to win by 5 lengths. Chillick, also owned by Morris H. Dixon, took over from Ripshot but could do no better than finish 2nd, 4 1/2 lengths in front of amateur rider Talbot J. Albert 3rd on his own Yes. The latter closed very fast in the stretch to cinch 3rd honors by a neck over Ripshot. Trained by D.M. "Mike" Smithwick, the winner covered the distance in 3:11.

Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Jr., owner of Dancing Beacon, claimed they were running her ex-hunter and Carolina Cup winner on the flat to sharpen him for Saturday's timber feature. The 2-time winner over timber this year must have been sharper than a Gillette blade as he found no trouble in winning a 1 mile turf race under Melvin Ferral, his usual pilot. Major General Richard K. Mellon's home-bred and highly favored Avinmore sported blinkers for the occasion after running out while leading at Far Hills, N.J. However, the "rogue's badge" did not help as the 3-year-old led his field until the stretch where he faded fast to finish third in the field of 8. While Avinmore was cutting out a rapid pace, Dancing Beacon was content to run 2nd. When the Mellon color-bearer slowed up in the stretch, Dancing Beacon went to the front and managed to hold off the closing rush furnished by Morris H. Dixon's Televise, which got to within 3/4's of a length to the winner at the wire. With the balance of the field well strung out, Avinmore gained the show award. Traveling the 1 mile trip over turf in 1:38, the erstwhile timber-topper registered a triple for trainer Cocks and a double for jockey Ferral.

Racing Review

Reverie Knoll Farm's Romanita, at 7.7 to 1, edged out Maine Chance Farm's Jet's Charm in the Matron. The winner's margin was a nose.

Lucky Mistake was third and Marullah, fourth. Defilade the choice, finished tenth. The race down the Widener Course was run in 1:08 2/5.

The Matron, a six-furlong dash for two-year-old fillies, carried a winner's prize of $43,020. Romanita (Roman-Mablen, by Stimulus) had $42,000 going into the race, so her total now stands at $85,020. The filly has won 5 races, been second in 3 and third in 1. She has started 13 times. In August, she won the Mademoiselle at Washington Park.

F. Sanders trains her. Eric Guerin had the mount in the Matron.

Freeman Keyes owns Reverie Knoll Farm. H. W. Williamson bred Romanita.

Searching is one of those steady females that causes horsemen to say "They'd better not make any mistakes when she's around."

On October 1, at Belmont, no mistakes were made. Even the public was right, fixing upon Searching as the choice (at 2 to 1) and collecting as she made first place racing through the stretch in the one mile Maskette Handicap.

Coming from well back, the daughter of War Admiral-Big Hurry, by Black Toney, whipped the long shot Happy Princess by half a length. Pucker Up and Parlo were next in line at the finish post.

Searching carried top weight of 123, giving 16 to the place horse. Owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs and trained by the lady's spouse, Hirsch, Searching earned $22,100 in the Maskette. Her season's total went up to $98,750. She has started 14 times in '56, has 4 wins, 3 seconds and 2 thirds. All her victories have been in stakes, the others were the Correction, Top Flight and Diana Handicaps.

THE CHRONICLE

Last season, Searching won $80,675, with 12 firsts, 8 seconds and 2 thirds in 26 tries. She is four years old.

Ogden Phipps bred her.

Greentree Stable's Riley steamed through a mile and five furlongs to win the Lawrence Realization, on October 3. The son of Hill Prince-Easy Living, by *Helipolis, won by 1 1/4 lengths over Third Brother. Oh Johnny, the choice, was third. Beau Diable finished fourth.

Riley earned $18,450 for his nice effort and now has 1956 income of $63,750. He won the Dwyer in July. With 14 starts, he has 5 wins, 1 second and 3 thirds.

John Gaver trains him and Ted Atkinson rides.

Greentree bred Riley.

Atlantic City

As predicted by most of the soothsayers, Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem finished in first place in the Absecon Island Stakes, on October 8.

The chestnut two-year-old won the mile test on grass by two lengths. Shoemaker did the steering.

Melson, second choice, appropriately finished second.

Sonny Dan and Althway collected the smaller shares of the purse.

Clem was registering his first stakes success. It was worth $21,050, and put his earnings at $32,500.

In 10 tries, he has 3 wins, 2 seconds and 3 thirds.

W. W. Stephens trains Clem.

The colt is by *Shannon II, from Impulsive, by Supremus, and was bred by Louis B. Mayer. Mrs. Rand paid $8,500 for Clem at the Keeneland Sales last year.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

Arrogate scored in the San Francisco Mile at Golden Gate, on September 29.

The Hawthorne Juvenile, October 6, went to Federal Hill. Hasseyampa took the Gold Cup Prep at Hawthorne the same afternoon.

Alspal took the Yo Tambien at Hawthorne on October 3. The winner's stablemate, Queen Hopeful, finished second.

The Colonial Handicap at Suffolk Downs, on October 6, was taken by Star Rover.

INTERESTING LITTLE BOOK

I came across a very interesting little book. If you ever see a copy, you would enjoy reading it. The title is A MEMOIR OF ANDREW JACKSON. It was privately published in 1938 by the late Mr. William Woodward, chairman of The Jockey Club, and there aren't very many copies around.

Andrew Jackson was a colored servant in Mr. Woodward's employ at Belair Stud. He came to Belair around 1900, as I gather it, and remained there until his death in 1932. He is buried at Belair. He must have been a fine man to inspire a memorial such as this book. Mr. Woodward wrote and published in his memory.

One day in 1917, Mr. Woodward and a secretary sat with Andrew under a shade tree at Belair. The secretary took notes while Andrew reminisced, prompted from time to time with questions by Mr. Woodward. That is the substance of the book. And it is all done in Andrew's own dialect too which almost makes the reader feel he is sitting right there with Mr. Woodward, Andrew, and the secretary.

Andrew Jackson was a jockey from 1872 until 1883. He rode for Governor Oden Bowie and others. Andrew singles out Catesby (Eclipse-Katy by Two Bits) on which he won the Saratoga Stakes in 1872 beating Springbok, Long Branch, and others as the best horse he ever rode. That race, incidentally, was Andrew's first win.

In response to Mr. Woodward's question as to the relative merits of the old-time horses as compared with the "present day" horses (remember that was in 1917), Andrew says the modern horses have no bottom; they are bred and trained only for speed. I'll bet the poor fellow would be shocked if he went to the races today where a mile and a half is a long race. On the other hand, he says the old timers didn't run as often as they do "now".

That business about breeding and training for more bottom and less speed delighted me as did another observation. Andrew said the old timers were in no hurry to get two-year-olds to the races. As a matter of fact, he recalls that, up to 1872, there wasn't any two-year-old racing at all.

The man's memory as to breeding, times, and other details is remarkable. Mr. Woodward puts a footnote when Andrew's recollection is at variance with recorded facts, such as the name of an owner or the time of a race. There are no footnotes on the breeding though. There is no need for them.

It is fascinating to sit with Mr. Woodward and listen to Andrew Jackson talk first hand about the name horses of nearly a century ago—Lexington, Ten Broek, Imp, Miss Woodford, Tom Ochiltree, Preakness, Duke of Magenta, Henry of Navarre, Hindoo, Salvator, Tenny, and others.

BOWMAN PAINTINGS

Jean Bowman of White Post, Virginia, has recently completed paintings of "Endeavour II, for Mrs. M.E. Lunn of Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Virginia, and of Sailor for Mrs. Dodge Sloan of Brookmeade Farm, also at Upperville. At the moment she is working on a portrait of five members of the family of C.G. Rice, who is MFH of the Myopia Hunt, Hamilton, Mass. From there she goes to the Essex country in New Jersey to paint five champion fox terriers belonging to Mr. William Brainerd and to do a statuette of that grand old hunter Manalong (by Man o' War) belonging to the Joint Master Mrs. Nelson Slater.

MRS. SERRELL IMPORTS DRESSAGE HORSE

Mrs. Howard P. Serrell of Greenwich, Connecticut, former Joint-Master of the Fairfield and Westchester Hunt, has recently imported from Germany the 5-year-old Thoroughbred gelding Goldlack, who has had one and one-half years schooling in dressage by Miss Hannelore Wegand, a member of the German Grand Prix de Dressage Team which won the Silver Medal at the Equestrian Olympic Games in Stockholm last June. Incidentally, Miss Wegand will be one of the judges at the Allendale, New Jersey Horse Show, October 12-14.

NEW HUNTER PROSPECT

Mrs. E. L. Griffin of Tacoma, Wash. was the guest of Gerry Pearson during the Oswego Horse Show the weekend of Sept. 21 to 23. Mrs. Griffin, known in the west coast as a lover of Saddlebreds, was over-run with hunters and jumpers during the weekend. Now, Portlanders declare that they detected, in Mrs. Griffin, a more than casual interest in the Thoroughbred direction.

NEW MONTEPELIER RACE

For several years the last race at Montpelier, the Bellevue Plate, has been at one mile and three-quarters for 3-year-olds and upward. This year the race will be restricted to 3-year-olds only with the idea of uncovering young horses able to go a distance on the flat and which, therefore, are prospects for hurdle and steeplechase races.

REUBENS STILL LIKE HUNTERS

In an interview with Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben, whose Hasty House Farms operate one of the leading racing stables in the country, Tom O'Reilly quotes Mr. Reuben as follows: "Our switch from showing Thoroughbred hunters to racing Thoroughbreds has been profitable, as you know. But we showed horses for 22 years without any profit at all. We won plenty of blues but we were still in the red. Billie had fun breaking and making the yearlings. I think she is one of America's finest horsewomen."

"We've been married 33 years and I built Hasty House Farms for her honor and benefit. But I was fearful of her physical welfare. We got just as big a kick out of retiring the Statler Gold Cup at Buffalo (you must win it three times to retire it) with our hunters going against Maj. Gen. Richard K. Mellon, Mrs. Ellsworth Augustus and other stables, as we did winning the Preakness or Widener Cups."

Before the first class at the Oregon State Fair, Harry Samuals owner of hunter Phar Rhona, appeared at the mare's stall with both hands full. One hand held a luscious bunch of carrots, in the other a can of horse meat.

"Take your choice," owner Samuals said.

The mare took a look and took her choice.

P.S. She won the Hunter Championship.

SCORING BY SPECTATORS

Among the admirable features of the recent Dublin Horse Show was a program of the jumping events containing spaces opposite the name of each horse and rider in which exhibitors could put down the score made during each round. This method of enlisting spectator interest is one that could well be copied in this country.

PAN AMERICAN OPEN POLO MATCHES HELD IN SAN FRANCISCO RECENTLY

Very enthusiastic crowds witnessed the Pan American Open Polo matches held in San Francisco recently. The stands and the cars, entirely circling the field, were filled. The Sixth Army Band from the Presidio provided music, and a special Marine color guard presented flags of both countries. Among the honored guests were the Mexican Consul General, Edmundo Gonzalez and Rear Admiral James Redman. Henry Untermyer, who played polo for Cornell in his college days, was one of the umpires; in the first game assisted by Todd Helser, who played polo for Stanford University in his college days. On the side lines acting as referees were San Francisco's Will Tevis and Bob Smith, Sr. The crowd was kept informed of all plays by the very capable polo announcer, Wally Hulse...

TO CAMARGO HUNT SUBSCRIBERS AND CAMARGO HUNTER TRIALS CONTESTANTS

In order to strengthen our pleasant relations with the landowners, over whose property we hunt, and to cement further the existing cordial feeling with our neighbors in the fox hunting country, it seems wise not to take hounds out on Sunday.

Therefore it is with extreme regret that we advise you that it has been necessary to cancel the meeting of the Camargo Hounds announced for Sunday, October 14th in the Prize List of the Camargo Hunter Trials taking place on October 13th at Mr. and Mrs. Warner L. Atkins' Four Winds Farm.

AN INTRODUCTION TO POLO, by "Marco." Country Life, Ltd., London. 30s.

With the world-wide resurgence of interest in polo, it is nice to be able to advise novices and remind veterans of the game that this handsome and helpful volume is again available in a revised and up-to-date edition, liberally illustrated with photographs and diagrams.
While the book is intended for the beginner who may not even be a proficient horseman, it will certainly serve the seasoned player well as a refresher course and ready reference and may be recommended also to polo officials and anyone else who wishes to consult a clear and comprehensive source of sound information on the galloping game.

From the opening chapter on horsemanship, which considers the aids and their application in handling one's mount through the maneuvers of polo, the reader is led logically and lucidly into the principles and tactics of the game itself, first as a spectator and then as a participant and member of the team. The chapter on striking (hitting) goes into exceptional detail on the four fundamental strokes and their variants, showing how to lengthen and/or loft shots and the proper form for consistent hitting. The illustrations here leave little to the imagination.

No aspect of the game, and one's preparation for it, has been overlooked. One chapter deals with equipment for both player and horses; another with the care required to maintain the average pony at full efficiency. Team play, in both attack and defense, is thoroughly discussed and diagrammed. The appendix includes both the International and the U.S.P.A. rules and a comparison to clarify similarities and differences as well as diagrams to explain field rules regarding "right of way".

Both sets of rules are carefully indexed.
The notes for the referee, umpires, timekeeper and goal judges in this section may be considered the Hoyle of polo officials.

Since this book is of English origin, the outgrowth of a handbook originally issued by the Royal Naval Polo Association, the American player must expect to determine for himself where suggested procedures do and do not apply. But in the absence of an expert mentor to answer his every question and help him solve his personal problems on the polo field and in the stable, the man who is sincerely interested in learning about polo and its many ramifications could not find a more helpful companion than "Marco." J.J.W.
